President's Message

Dear Members of the Temple City Historical Society,

I hope this letter finds you well. As we approach Temple City's 100th anniversary, it is essential that we take a moment to reflect on the significance of documenting and remembering our city's rich history.

As you know, Temple City has a fascinating past, dating back to the late 19th century when the land was owned by the Temple family. Over the years, our city has seen significant growth and development, from the establishment of businesses and schools to the creation of our unique cultural heritage.

It is crucial that we preserve this history for future generations to come. By documenting our past, we can learn from our successes and failures, and ensure that we continue to build upon the foundation that has been laid before us.

As members of the Temple City Historical Society, you play a critical role in this effort. Through your dedication and hard work, you have helped to preserve the stories and artifacts that make up our city's past. Our members have worked tirelessly to ensure that our history is not forgotten, and for that, we are all grateful.

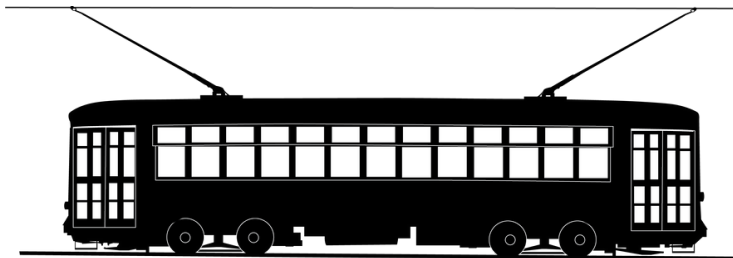

As we celebrate Temple City's 100th anniversary, let us take a moment to reflect on the significance of this milestone. Let us remember those who have come before us, and honor their contributions to our city. And let us commit ourselves to preserving and documenting our history for future generations.

Thank you for all that you do, and I look forward to continuing to work with you in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Robert Westgate
President
